WASHINGTON, June 11, 1869.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

Recent advices from Cuba state that the difficulty between the Spanish officials and the organized volunteers is on the increase, and the latter have almost entire control of the Government of the island. Such is their power that they forced the acting Captain-General to countermand the requisition of Dulce on the home Government for a reinforcement of five thousand regular troops.

CUSTOMS.

The receipts of customs from June 1st to 5th, inclusive, were $1,474,128.

BELGIAN MISSION.

Hon. J. Russell Jones has been commissioned Minister to Belgium, and will sail on the 26th inst.

ON A VISIT.

Secretary Rawlins left this evening for a brief visit to his family in Connecticut.

The National Typographical Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, June 11.—In the Typographical Convention to-day the report on the new Constitution was read.

The sum of twenty-five dollars was appropriated to pay the expenses of Mr. Troup, delegate to the Congress of the National Labor Union last year.

A resolution was adopted to send two delegates to the National Labor Union, and Messrs. Sample and Green, of Pittsburgh, were appointed, with Messrs. Beatty and Quinn, of Philadelphia, as alternates.

A resolution declaring that the practice of taking apprentices to a printing business who had no knowledge of grammar ought to be abolished. Adopted—36 to 25.

The Convention then selected Cincinnati as the place for the next meeting.

Mr. Frickelton moved that the general laws be so amended as to grant charters to Women's Typographical Unions. Referred.

The Committee on Returns reported seven thousand five hundred and forty-five members in good standing. There have been two thousand two hundred and fifty-six members initiated within the past year; one hundred and forty-four have been expelled, and one hundred and seventy six restored under the amnesty proclamation.

The Committee on Subordinate Unions reported favorably upon the following subjects:

That apprentices to the printing business should have a good grammar education. Rejected.

That an organizer of subordinate Unions in Canada and the Eastern States be appointed and his expenses be paid by the National Union. Tabled.

That the action of the Erie, Pa., Union, in denouncing certain parties as "rats," and for which the members of this Union have been indicted for conspiracy and libel, be approved. On motion of Mr. Minamon, the clause was amended by pledging the efforts of members of the Union to secure the repeal of the conspiracy and libel laws. The other clause was adopted.

The Convention then went into Committe on the new Constitution. A debate arose on the second section, which contained a provision looking to granting charters to Women's Unions. The proposition to amend so as to militate against the women charter proposition was lost. The section was amended so as to require a scale of prices to be adopted by one Union to be agreed to by another Union in the same town or city, and then adopted. The third section providing for granting charters to Women's Unions was then read and amended so to allow women to join other than Women's Unions. The section was then adopted with but one or two dissenting voices. A section requiring that delegates to the National Union shall be members in good standing in the Unions they represent, was adopted. Article three, relative to the officers and their election, was adopted. Article four, relative to the duties of officers, was taken up, but not disposed of when the Committee rose and reported progress, and a recess was taken.

At the afternoon session other articles of the Constitution were adopted and the whole instrument adopted by 168 to 16.

Miss Augusta Lewis, President of the Women's Typographical Union, thanked the Convention for its action.

Mr. Beatty offered a resolution that it is unjust for members of a Union to receive and do work taken from a place where there is a strike. Adopted.

Politics in Tennessee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, June 11.—The Press and Times, which has heretofore been the organ of Stokes, came out this morning strongly for Senter, and universal suffrage. The old editors of the Press and Times have all ceased connection with it, and no names are announced as editors of the paper, but the leading article declares it will hereafter be the organ of no man or set of men, but will boldly and independently advocate whatever its conductors think to be politic and right.

The Senter movement seems to be gathering strength and force all over the State. The three leading journals of the Republican party, one in each of the great divisions of the State, the Knoxville Whig, the Press and Times and the Memphis Post, are now all for Senter.

News from Paraguay.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—European mails bring the following Paraguayan news: A Brazilian regiment of cavalrp in the advanced guard of the allied army had been surprised, and the whole regiment destroyed by Lopez's troops. All were killed or taken prisoners. The expeditionary corps which landed at Razares was surprized, a great part being killed and taken prisoners by Paraguayans. A gunboat, which was towing up the river Tehicuary a Chata, charged with provisions for the army, was boarded by the Paraguayans, who killed all the crew and took possession of the cargo of the two vessels. The allied army was still in Luque.

FRANCE.

LONDON, June 11.—The agitation in Paris last night continued until after night. The troops occupied Montemarte and vicinity, and the cavalry paraded through the streets all night. Shortly after midnight the crowds in one of the streets of Montemarte district broke through the line of police and formed a barricade, but they were dispersed and pursued in all directions by the troops. Many windows were broken and other damage done to property in that quarter of the city. The cavalry charged on the crowd in the streets several times and many citizens were wounded, but no one killed. The police have been very active, and it is reported to-day they made nearly six hundred arrests since midnight.

Further disturbances are apprehended and extraordinary precautions have been taken by the Government to prevent them.

The Patrie and other Paris journals give returns showing the election of one hundred and ninety-nine Official and ninety-three Opposition candidates.

The editors of the Revert heve been arrested on a charge of conspiracy.

PARIS, June 11.—Midnight.—Gen. Cluseret has been expelled from France. Great crowds of people still continue in the streets in Montemartre and other quarters of Paris, and the agitation and excitement are unabated. The Emperor and Empress, however, passed through the streets again this evening in an open carriage, with only the usual number of attendants.

LONDON, Midnight.—In the House of Lords, this evening, Lord Bateman asked the intention of the Government in respect to the Irish Church Bill. Earl Carnavon and Lord Cairns opposed the question as unnecessary and inexpedient at the present time. Earl Granville, Secretary of State for Colonial Departments, said in reference to the outside rumors, that the Government had no intention to depart from the respectful course that was due the House of Commons.

The Duke of Abercorn presented a petition of citizens of Belfast and vicinity, containing eighty thousand signatures, against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. In his remarks on the occasion he said this petition emanated from the most important demonstration ever held in Ireland. He showed the great changes that had taken place in the sentiments of the people since the general election. He believed the people of the north of Ireland were not singular in this par icular. He believed the change was going on rapidly and certainly throughout the whole country, on account of the injustice and partiality of the bill.

In the House of Commons this evening the proceedings were mainly unimportant. The debate on the Alabama question was postponed till the 19th of July.

In the platform the main principles of the Republican party are endorsed. The adoption of the Constitution is recommended. A resolution reconsidering the enfranchisement of the whites was objected to by Mr. Butler, but was finally adopted. On Wednesday the Convention nominated Mr. Haney for State Treasurer, but he declined, and Mr. Price, of Austin, was nominated. News from Cuba.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, June 12.—The reports that an expedition of filibusters had landed at Aguadores near Santiago, and another expedition was on the south side of the island waiting to land, are unconfirmed. The rumor that the war steamer Louisa had sunk two vessels bringing filibusters to aid the revolutionists is also unconfirmed. The journals and private letters announced that many of the insurgents are surrendering to Valmaseda. Affairs remain tranquil in the vicinity of Bayamo and Manzanillo.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

A Series of Burglaries.

Wednesday night last a series of burglaries were perpetrated in the Sixth ward, under circumstances which would indicate that a professional had been at work in that locality. The house of Mr. Mawhinny, on Boyd's Hill, was visited by a burglar, who effected an entrance through a skylight, and after rummaging a number of drawers, left without getting any thing of value. On the same night the house of Mrs. Gillespie, on Gibbon street, was entered through a back window, and the thief went to the room occupied by Mrs. G and her daughter, in which there was a light burning. The ladies, who were the only occupants of the house, cried for help, whereupon the fellow put out the light and fled without receiving any booty. The same night the house of Luke Loomis was entered by a burglar, who rummaged the drawers and received for his trouble the sum of two dollars.

Petroleum Items.

The Titusville Herald announces that a new forty barrel well was struck on the Lyle farm, near the National wells, a day or two ago.

A new well was struck on Wednesday on the Baney farm, Cherrytree run. The land and working interest is owned by Baum Bros. The well has not been pumped a sufficient length of time to determine what it will produce, but it will undoubtedly be a paying institution.

The production of West Virginia has been decreasing on account of several wells failing. The well at Volcano, or White Oak, which was drilled to a depth of eight hundred feet in April last, and which flowed one hundred barrels of light oil for a time, is now yielding only twenty-five barrels a day.

A Word to Purchasers.

All the latest styles in dress goods, lace goods, trimmings, &c., &c., may be found at W. W. Moorhead's, No. 81 Market street. Mr. Moorhead's stock does not consist of old, obsolete patterns and inferior qualities of goods, but is fresh, attractive and of the best manufactures. Everything sold at the establishment is warranted as represented, and cannot fail to give satisfaction, both in material and price, to every reasonable purchaser. Additions are being made to the assortment daily, as it is the aim of the proprietor to keep abreast of the fashions in every case. Our readers, especially the ladies, who delight in bargains, should not forget No. 81 Market street in distributing their patronage.

Water Privileges in Allegheny.

We give place to the following communication, believing it right to make such complaints public, when the usual private importunity proves ineffectual. We know nothing of the facts, and can answer only one of the queries, the question "whether the money expended for branch pipes should have been expended in buying up the Water Committee?" We answer that it should not, and that we believe the members of that Committee are incapable of the crime implied by the question. We may add that the author of the article is a responsible and highly respectable citizen, every way entitled to be heard:

EDITORS GAZETTE: Can you inform me of the necessary means or ways of having the water pipes laid on our street, (Beech street, Allegheny.) Two years ago I built a house on this street, and on application to the proper authorities (by petition) for water privileges, was informed that there were not sufficient houses on the street to warrant the outlay. I then had the water pipes on Grant Avenue tapped, and a branch brought to my building, at an expense of between one and two hundred dollars. One year ago we had ten houses on the street and sent in another petition for the water privilege, and were again refused. Since that time we have other buildings on our street, and I have been informed the reason why the water pipes are not put down is that a large property owner on the street refuses to buy city bonds, certainly a very excellent reason why the other property owners should be deprived of their privileges. As the houses on the street are all fine and rather elegant buildings, the owners (who occupy the buildings,) have been compelled to bring branch pipes to their houses at their own expense. The city authorities though neglecting our wants, have not forgotten to tax me this year $22 75 for water rent, and I think $26 last year. Now, please tell me, should we have spent the money we paid for bringing the water branches to our houses in buying up the Water Committee, or donating it in some way other than a bribe? Other streets with but one and two houses on them have the water privilege; then, why not ours? BEECH STREET.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Two more entertainments close the season at the Opera House. The engagement of Maffitt and Bartholomew's Comic Pantomime Troupe for the past two weeks has been most successful so far, and as "Robinson Crusoe" will be presented both at the matinee this afternoon and the closing entertainment to-night, full houses may be anticipated.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The season at the "Old Drury" closes to-night. A special bill will be presented at the matinee this afternoon and evening full of fun and amusement.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Miss Jean Hosmer, the celebrated and accomplished tragedienne, supported by an excellent troupe, will appear at the Academy of Music as "Lucretia Borgia," this evening.

GRAND CONCERT.—Lovers of good music should remember that on Monday evening a grand vocal and instrumental concert under the direction of Prof. C. Teledoux will be given at Masonic Hall, in which some of the best artists of the city will participate.

Female College Commencement.

The commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh Female College will commence on Thursday morning next, with the examination of the senior class. On Thursday evening the Music Contest will take place for the gold and silver medals, known as the Thomas McKee and C. C. Mellor endowment prizes. It is useless for us to say that the previous contests for the same marks of honor have been conspicuous for their brilliancy, and merited the applause of all who have attended. The marked proficiency in musical matters of the present scholars is a guarantee that the same rich feast of musical entertainment is in store for those who attend. The Exercises will continue for one week from Thursday. Cards of invitation to the Musical Contest, for greater convenience, have been placed for sale at the various book and music stores of the city. We anticipate a very large attendance.

Tobacco and Segars.

There is, perhaps, no business in this city which has so rapidly increased within the past few years as the tobacco and segar business. The quantity of tobacco consumed annually since the war is more than double that of former years, notwithstanding the increased cost of the luxury. If any of our readers have a desire to see for themselves and have an opportunity of forming some idea of the extent of the business, they have but to visit the establishment of John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, whose stock of tobacco and segars, including all the finest brands of both articles, is one of the largest in the city. He has also on hand a full stock of pipes, tubes and other articles usually found in a first class tobacco store. Try his fine segars.

Fast Driving.

A petition, unanimously signed by citizens residing on Wylie street, has been presented to the Mayor, asking him to take some means to prevent the fast and reckless driving which is indulged in on that thoroughfare, to the great danger and inconvenience of citizens and pedestrians passing along the street. The street cars are particularly complained of. We learn that the officers stationed on that street have been instructed in regard to the matter, and if there is any more complaint they will be held responsible. Fast drivers should be careful in future, as the officers will not accrue the responsibility of letting them escape.

The Life Insurance Question—Some Broad Assertions.—The "Accumulating Policy" of the Co-operative Life Insurance Company of Western Pennsylvania is positively the fairest, safest, cheapest and best system yet devised. All who wish to understand the reasons for these facts are invited to call at the Company's office, 128 Smithfield street.

Emigration of Workingmen.

Should the dispute between the factory hands at Preston and their employers not terminate shortly, says a Liverpool paper of the 30th ult., there is every probability of a large exodus of operatives from the Mersey. There is a general belief in Liverpool that there are several active American agents at work in that country, and especially in Lancashire. During the late strikes in the cotton districts a large number of the most experienced operatives had their passage free to New York, and thence to Lowell. The same work is now going on in connection with Preston—that is, not a steamer leaves the Mersey now but what carries out a number of factory hands. Although there exists no strike of importance in the Black Country at present, yet the number of comfortable and well-to-do looking men and women which leave Liverpool almost daily for New York, en route to the iron works at Pittsburgh, is suggestive of some agency at work.

An Offer.

If the City of Allegheny will lease for ten years so much of her streets as appears for some time past to be given up wholly to private uses, and guarantee exclusive and uninterrupted possession of the same for ten years, (about the time some of them have been denied to the public use,) I will pay for the same fifty thousand dollars in installments on rental of five thousand dollars per annum. Samples of the monopoly referred to may be seen in Anderson, Robinson, Lacock, Sandusky, Water, (west of Federal,) Beaver and other streets and alleys.

A like sum, or larger, is offered for like privileges in the City of Pittsburgh, with ample security for the rent.

PROPOSER.

"Any Ornaments for Your Mantle piece."

Our readers have, many of them, doubtless, heard the song with the above title, and some of them may have heard and seen the ornament vender, when—

"Any ornaments for your mantle-piece,
Was his daily cry."

and if they should see or hear the fellow again, they will confer a favor on Mrs. Jones, who resides on Duquesne Way, near Hay street, as some villain, "with intent to steal, take and carry away," entered her domicil yesterday afternoon and abstracted therefrom every ornament that graced her mantle-piece, and it might be possible that the "ornament man" was the thief.

Wedding Rings in England.

Although a ring is absolutely necessary in a Church of England marriage, it may be of any metal, and of any size. Some years since a ring of brass was used at Worcester at a wedding before the registrar, who was threatened with proceeding for not compelling a gold one to be employed. A story is told of the wedding of two paupers, who came to the church and requested to be married with the church key, as the parochial authorities had not furnished them with a ring. The clerk, feeling some delicacy about using the key, fetched an old curtain ring from his own house, and with that article the marriage was celebrated. The church key was used in lieu of a wedding ring at a church near Colchester early in the present century; and that was not a solitary instance within the past one hundred years in this country. The Duke of Hamilton was married at May Fair with a bed curtain ring. "Notes and Queries" for October, 1860, relates that a ring of leather; cut transversely from a finger of the bridegroom's glove, was used as a substitute for the wedding ring on one occasion. A clergyman unjustifiably stopped a wedding in India because the bridegroom offered a diamond ring instead of one generally in use. In Ireland the use of a gold ring is superstitiously required.

—In the National Typographical Convention, at Albany, Thursday night, resolutions were introduced, debated and referred, asking Congress to pass a postal telegraph bill in order to prevent the Associated Press from virtually preventing any more newspapers being published. A series of resolutions were offered that employers should not make religious or political views a test of employment, and denouncing the action of the Congressional printer for giving employment to L. H. Douglass, (colored,) a "rat." A proposition to divide the question was agreed to, when the Convention adjourned without action.

—The remains of Lieut. P. J. Terrell, an officer in the Fenian organization, were refused the burial rites of the Roman Catholics, at Louisville, because the Fenian Brotherhood appeared in the Church in regalia. The body was taken from the Church and followed to the Cemetery by a large concourse of Fenians. The action of the Priest has caused a profound sensation.

AN ANCIENT CLOCK.

Over the white, bleak, barren land,
Level and golden, has dropt the sun;
Down on the wild shore's icy sand
Boom the loud breakers, one by one.

Out from the blue east, fierce and round,
The red moon gr. atens o'er jostling waves;
And now with impetuous, dreary sound
The voice of the sweeping night-blast raves;

And angrier, louder the billows wake,
Whither its mighty footstep shocks,
Tossed into surges that momently break,
Buffeting on prec pitous rocks.

There, in the empty, solemn house,
Sit th a woman while shadows fall,
Harkening mutely, with bended brows,
To the clock that ticks from the lonesome hall.

A feeble monotone, vague to hear,
While turbulent waters clash below;
Yet every stroke to the listener's ear
Is sweet with the music of long ago!

For the ancient clock from its corner dim
Can deal with time in marvelous ways,
And tick, when the mood so pleases him,
Back through a thousand yesterdays!

And to her who listens at hours like these,
'Tis the same if abroad be tumult or rest—
Thunderous battle of whitry seas,
Or boundless calm on ocean's breast.

How often (perchance with dreams to weave
How the ancient clock in our lonesome halls)
The tempest and clamor of life we leave,
When memory's magic whisper calls!

THE MAIL ROBBER, AND HOW HE WAS CAUGHT.

Fourteen years ago I drove from Danbury to Littleton, a distance of forty-two miles, and as I had to await the arrival of two or three coaches, and did not start till after dinner, I very often had a good distance to drive after dark. It was in the dead of winter, and the season had been a rough one. A great deal of snow had fallen, and the drifts were plenty and deep. The mail that I carried was not due at Littleton by contract until one o'clock in the morning, but that winter the postmaster was obliged to sit up a little later than that hour for me.

One day in January, when I drove up my mail at Danbury, the postmaster called me into his office.

"Pete," said he, with an important, serious look, "there's some pretty heavy money packages in that bag" and he pointed to it as he spoke. He said the money was from Boston to some land agents up near the Canada line. Then he asked me if I'd got any passengers who were going through to Littleton? I told him I did not know. "But suppose I have not?" says I.

"Why," said, "the agent of the lower route came in to-day, and he says that there were two suspicious characters on the stage that came up last night, and he suspects that they have an eye upon this mail, so that it will stand in hand to be a little careful."

He said the agent had described one of them as a short, thick-set fellow, about forty years of age, with long hair, and a thick, heavy clump of beard under his chin, but none on the side of his face. He didn't know anything about the other. I told him I guessed there wasn't much danger.

"Oh! no, not if you have got passengers all the way through; but I only told you of this so that you might look out for your mail, and also look out sharp when you change horses."

I answered that I should do so, and then took the bag under my arm and left the office. I stowed the mail under my seat a little more carefully than usual, placing it so that I could keep my feet against it, but beyond that I did not feel any concern. It was past one when we started, and I had four passengers, two of whom rode only to my first stopping-place. I reached Gowan's Mills at dark, when we stopped for supper, and where my other two passengers concluded to stop for the night.

About six o'clock in the evening I left Gowan's Mills alone, having two horses and a pung.

I had seventeen miles to go, and a hard seventeen it was, too. The night was quite clear, but the wind was sharp and cold, the loose snow flying in all directions, while the dritts were deep and closely packed. It was slow, tedious work, and my horses soon became legweary and restive. At the distance of six miles I came to a little settlement called Bull's Corner, where I took fresh horses. I'd been two hours going that distance. As I was going to start, a man came to me and asked me if I was going through to Littleton. I told him I should go through if the thing could possibly be done. He said he was very anxious to go, and as he had no baggage I told him to jump in and make himself as comfortable as possible. I was gathering up my lines, when the hostler came up and asked me if I knew that one of my horses had cut himself badly. I jumped out and went with him, and found that one of the animals had got a deep cork cut on the off fore foot. I gave such directions as I considered necessary, and was obout to turn away, when the hostler remarked that he thought I came alone. I told him I did. "Then where did you get that passenger?" said he.

"He just got in," I answered.

"Got in from where?"

"I don't know."

"Well now," said the hostler, "that's kind of curious. There ain't been no such man at the house, and I know there ain't been none at any of the neighbors."

"Let's have a look at his face" said I. "We can get that much at any rate. Do you go back with me, and when I get into the pung, just hold your lantern so the light will shine into his face."

He did as I wished, and as I stepped into the pung, I got a fair view of such portions of my passenger's face as was not muffled up. I saw a short, thick frame, full, hard features, and I could almost see that there was a heavy beard under the chin. I thought of the man whom the Postmaster had described to me; but I did not think seriously upon it until I had started. Perhaps I had gone half a mile when I noticed the mail bag wasn't in its place under my feet.

"Halloo!" says I, holding up my horses a little, "where's my mail ?"

My passenger sat on a seat behind me, and I turned toward him.

"Here is a bag of some kind slipped back under my feet," he said, giving it a kick, as though he would shove it forward.

Just at this moment my horses lumbered into a deep snow drift, and I was forced to get out and tread down the snow in front of them and lead them through it.

This took me all of fifteen minutes; and when I got in again I pulled the the mail bag forward and got my feet upon it. As I was doing this I saw the man taking something from his lap, beneath the buffalo, and put it into his breast pocket. This I thought was a pistol. I had caught the gleam of a barrel in the starlight, and when I had time to reflect I knew I could not be mistaken.

About this time I began to think somewhat seriously. From what I had heard and seen, I soon made up my mind that the individual behind me not only meant to rob me of my mail, but he was prepared to rob me of my life. If I resisted him he would shoot me, and perhaps he meant to perform that delectable operation at any rate. While I was pondering the horses plunged into another deep snow-drift, and I was again forced to get out and tread down the snow before them. I asked my passenger if he would help me, but he didn't feel very well, and wouldn't try; so I worked all alone, and was all of a quarter of an hour getting my team through the drifts.

When I got into the sleigh again I began to feel for the mail-bag with my feet. I found it where I had left it; but when I attempted to withdraw my foot I discovered it had become entangled in something —I thought it was the buffalo, and I tried to kick it clear; but the more I kicked, the more closely was it held. I reached down my hand, and after feeling about a few moments, I found that my foot was in the mail-bag! I felt again, and found my hand in among the packages of letters and papers! I ran my fingers over the edges of the opening and became assured that the stout leather had been cut with a knife!

Here was a discovery! I began to wish that I had taken a little more forethought before leaving Danbury; but as I knew that making such wishes was only a waste of time, I quickly gave it up, and began to consider what I had best to do under existing circumstances. I wasn't long in making up my mind upon a few essential points. First, the man behind me was a villain; second, he had cut open the mail bag and robbed it of some valuble matter—he must have known the money letters by their size and shape; third, he meant to leave the stage on the first opportunity, and fourthly, he was prepared to shoot me if I attempted to arrest or detain him.

I revolved these things over in my mind, and pretty soon thought of a course to pursue. I knew that to get my hands safely upon the rascal I must take him wholly unawares, and this I could not do while he was behind me, for his eyes were upon me all the time—so I must resort to stratagem. Only a little distance ahead was a house, and an old farmer named Lougee lived there; and directly before it a huge snowbank stretched across the road, through which a track had been cleared with shovels.

As we approached the cut I saw a light in the front room, as I felt confident I should, for the old man generally set up until the stage went by. I drove on, and when nearly opposite the dwelling stood up, as I had frequently done when approaching difficult places. I saw the snowbank ahead, and could distinguish the deep cut which had been shoveled through it. I urged my horses to a good speed, and when near the bank forced them into it. One of the runners mounted the edge of the bank, after which the other ran into the cut, thus throwing the sleigh over about as quick as though lightning had struck it.

My passenger had not calculated on any such movement, and wasn't prepared for it; but I had calculated and was prepared. He rolled out into the deep snow with a heavy buffalo robe around him, while I lighted on my feet directly on top of him. I punched his head in the snow and sung out for old Lougee. I did not have to call a second time, for the farmer had come to the window to see me pass, and as soon as he saw my sleigh overturned he had lighted his lantern and hurried out.

"What's to pay?" asked the old man, as he hurried out.

"Lead the horses into the track, and then come here," said I.

As I spoke I partially loosened my hold upon the villain's throat, and he drew a pistol from his bosom, but I saw it in season, and jammed his head into the snow again, and got it away from him. By this time Lougee had led the horses out and came back, and I explained the matter to him in as few words as possible. We hauled the rascal out into the road, and, upon examination, we found about twenty packages of letters which he had stolen from the mail-bag and stowed away in his pockets.

He swore, and threatened, and prayed; but we paid no attention to his blarney. Lougee got some stout cord, and when we had securely bound the villian we tumbled him into the pung. I asked the eld man if he would accompany us to Littleton, and he said "Of course!" So he got his overcoat and muffler, and ere long we started on.

I reached the end of my route with my mail all safe, though not as snug as it might have been, and my mail-bags a little the worse for the game that had been played upon them. However, the mail robber was secure, and within a week he was identified by some officers from Concord as an old offender, and I am rather inclined to the opinion that he is in the State prison at the present time. At any rate, he was there when last I heard from him.

That's the only time I ever had any mail trouble; and I think that, under all the circumstances, I came out of it pretty well.

THE Corinne (Utah) Reporter of June 4, says: "A few mornings ago, we mentioned that a party of about forty dissenters and apostates from the Mormon Church, in Utah, had chartered a car on the Union Pacific Road at this point to return to the States. Their departure was delayed until yesterday, when two car loads of them bid a farewell forever to Utah. During the few days they were detained, their number was increased to fifty, and many more would have accompanied them if they would have delayed a few days longer. Some of the party were early pioneers of Utah, and endured the hardships and privations consequent upon such early emigration. They have seen and observed many things in Utah which are unpublished to the world, and they can a tale unfold to our Eastern friends of suffering, persecution, and opposition that will make the hair stand straight on the heads of the philanthropists of the East."

THE report of the fifty-third anniversary of the American Bible Society, just held in New York, shows another very prosperous year. The total receipts were $731,734 73. The number of volumes issued and circulated during the year 1,386,611, making the entire number published in the fifty-three years 25,241,731. By the rules of the board no discrimination is made between the white and the colored people. A number of colored colporteurs have been employed by the various auxiliaries, and several Freedmen's Bible Societies are doing good service.

Two Fratricidal Murders.

Yesterday evening about six o'clock, two brothers named James and Jesse Clouston were engaged in shearing sheep at their farm in the vicinity of Poplar Springs, near Cameron, West Virginia. They were also engaged in conversation upon a topic which had been the subject of some dispute. Jesse claimed that James had promised him a table cloth on the occasion of his (Jesse's) marriage, which transpired about six months ago. This alleged promise, not having been fulfilled, James was taxed with remissness. An altercation ensued, in which, according to our informant, James called Jesse a liar. Jesse replied with a blow, upon which James stabbed his brother with the shears which he had in his hand. Probably the blow went immediately to the heart, for the wounded man dropped upon the instant. Further particulars have not been learned.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

On Sunday night, two sons of Mr. Kemper, at Glandorf, Putnam county, had a dispute about the disposition made by their father of his estate. Finally, one of them, who had become frenzied by drink, struck the other a blow on the neck with a knife, resulting in the death of the latter in half an hour. The murderer, on seeing the result of his rash act, came to Ottowa and surrendered himself to the authoritles.

Potato Speculators Bitten.

The high price of potatoes for a couple of years past induced farmers to plant unusual quantities of these esculents, and being favored with good weather the crop brought a heavy yield. Last fall the prices continued high—the usual rates about the close of navigation being from $2 to $2 75 per barrel. Some farmers were, however, not content with these figures, and held large quantities of their potatoes over until this spring for better prices. In this they erred, and avarice for once is punished as it ought always to be. The supply this spring is far greater than the demand, and instead of realizing the prices of last fall, holders are at our steamboat landing only getting from fifty to seventy-five cents per barrel for the best varieties. In some places prices are even lower. Farmers are carrying potatoes to Fort Edward at prices ranging from twenty to thirty cents per bushel, and some varieties are not salable at any price; while in Herron, at the starch mills, they bring only ten cents per bushel, and are not wanted even at that price. Many farmers were unable to get all their crop off last fall, and are to be pitied; but those who kept their supply back for extravagant prices this spring are entitled to no sort of consideration. The public verdict will be "served 'em right."—Troy Times.

Washington Items.

The Administration has decided not to do anything more than is being done towards the preservation of peace in Georgia. General Terry, who is in command, has been instructed to yield all possible assistance to the civil authorities, and is doing so. He reports a number of arrests made by the military.

There is good authority for the statement that this Government may abandon its projected attempts to transfer further negotiations regarding the Alabama difficulties to Washington. The reasons for this are many, but the greatest is the fact that the Alabama having been built in Great Britain, the evidences of the alleged outrages against us are to be reached more conveniently at the Court of St. James than they could be here. Secretary Fish was at first inclined to insist that the negotiations should be referred here, but on reflection will probably direct Minister Motley to wait for overtures from Lord Clarendon in London. One thing is certain, our Government will not attempt to force propositions for further parley on the subject from the English.

A GOOD story is told of a man on a Mississippi steamer who was questioned by a Yankee. The gentleman, to humor the fellow, replied to all questions strightforwardly until the inquisitor was fairly puzzled for an interrogatory. At last he inquired: "Look here, Squire—where were yeou born?" "I was born," said the victim, "in Boston, Tremont street, No. 44, left hand side, on the first of August, 1820, at five o'clock in the afternoon, physician, Dr. Warren; nurse, Sallie Benjamin." Yankee was answered completely. For a moment he was struck. Soon, however, his face brightened, and he quickly said: "Yaas; wall, I calculate yeou don't recollect whether it was a frame or brick house, dew ye?"

THE ordinance to raise a million dollars to complete the Western Maryland Railroad to Williamsport, finally passed the City Councils of Baltimore, and now awaits Mayor Banks' signature. It is fully understood that if the enemies of this bill press an injunction to defeat its objects, there will be an injunction issued to prevent the appropriation of two millions of dollars by the City Councils to complete the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad. This, if successful, would stop further operations on that work.

THE OHIO MARRIAGE LAW.—It is now stated that there is an error in the law regulating marriages, as printed. The law, as it was written, provides that no young lady under eighteen years of age, shall marry without the consent of parents or guardian. The enrolling clerk of the House wrote twenty-one years instead of the eighteen of the original bill, and so it was printed. Probate judges will, of course, take the bill as it was framed and act accordingly.

THE Knoxville (Tenn.) Herald of the 6th, says: "Gen. J. T. Wilder, of Rockwood Iron works, informs us that the miners are now at work upon a deposit of coal which exceeds in thickness any thing ever known in the world. An air course which drives across the bed shows it to be over one hundred feet thick! This is more than twice the thickness of the largest beds of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania."

THE North Stonington, Connecticut, church, hires its preacher at one dollar per Sabbath. A preacher (who now gets $2,000 per year elsewhere,) once agreed to preach for this Stonnington church for $50 for six months. At the end of that term, one of the members moved that they pay him $30 and charge him the other $20 for the rent of the pulpit, which he used to practice in.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 11, 1869.

The oil market was remarkably quiet to-day, the sales in the aggregate being smaller than during any preceding day this week, while in regard to prices there is no important change. To use a common phrase, among oil men, there was considerable dickering, but it did not amount to much, as it seemed almost impossible to get buyers and sellers together. The time and attention of dealers generally seems to be absorbed in figuring in regard to production, stocks, receipts and shipments, but as might be expected, nothing definite as yet has been arrived at, and it is difficult to find any two, who have given the matter any attention, who bring about the same results. There are many who believe that the statements set forth in regard to stocks and production, are not correct; that they are very far from being accurate, but then there is no way of detecting the errors complained of. It is very important and desirable to have statistics bearing on these points, but unless they are correct, they are utterly worthless.

CRUDE.

The Crude market was exceedingly quiet to-day, the sales being comparatively insignificant, and while the feeling, if anything, was a little weak, prices, compared with yesterday, have undergone but little change. Sales of 1,000 delivered on cars at Venango City, at $5,30; 2,000 seller July, on private terms; and 1,000 seller June, at 13¾.

REFINED

Also was very quiet and as in the case of Crude, prices are without important change. Sale of 500 each June and July, at 31½; and 500 July, at 32. Quotations may be fairly given at 31 for June; 32 for July, 32¾@33 for July to December; and 33 for October to December.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily with four feet six inches in the channel last evening. Weather clear and pleasant; mercury at 4 P. M. 72.

The Mary Davage from St. Louis, with with a cargo of iron ore, is the only transient arrival we have to report. The Maggie Hays, from same point, is due to night.

The Kenton for Portsmouth, is the only departure we have to report.

The Lawrence succeeded in getting over Glass House on Thursday; but was again unfortunate, sticking for a time on Beaver Shoals. It seems that she was in bad trim, and handled badly.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Glasgow, Capt. Andy Robinson Jr, will positively take her departure for the Upper Mississippi this forenoon, and passengers and shippers can rely on her going thaough to St. Paul.

The Kate Putnam from Cincinnati is due here on Monday.

—The Kate Putman left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday with about 200 tons. Pilots—James Hamilton and Jas. Henderson.

—Captain Greathouse, late of the steamer Nina Symmes, has contracted with John R. Stuart & Co., of Madison, for a new steamer for the New Orleans and Bayou Sara trade. Her dimensions are as follows: 175 feet long, 33 feet beam, 6 feet hold.

—A Louisville special to the Cincinnati Commercial, says: The harbor and canal have been blocked the greater portion of the day with the coal fleet going through, there not being sufficient water on the falls for them. The Simpson Horner, A. J. Baker, Mary Alice, Boaz, Stella, Eva and Ajax will take tows South. The rest of the boats return to Pittsburgh.

—Henry Jenkins, a well-known steamboat steward, died in Cincinnati on Monday morning, after a short illness, and was buried on Tuesday.

—It is said that Dowler's improved wheel, which is being tested at St. Louis on the steamer Revolution, is a success, and will revolutionize navigation.

—The hull of the steamer Gerard B. Allen will be used in the construction of the new bridge at St. Louis, work on which was commenced on the western bank of the Mississippi Saturday morning.

—Captain John N. Bofinger has been elected President of the new New Orleans and St. Louis Packet Line and John W. Carroll, General Superintendent and Freight Agent.

—Capt. John Woodburn has gone to Memphis, but will return in about a month. He probably arranged before his departure for building his new boat.

—The Glendale arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday and the Wauanita left there the same day for Pittsburgh and the Nick Wall for Fort Benton.

—The New Albany Ledger says: Supervising Inspector Guthrie of this District has asked to be relieved from the office he now holds, but it seems that his successor has not yet been appointed. He has rented a farm of twenty-two acres, four miles from this city, on the Grant line road, which he is having planted in broom corn and potatoes. He says he will be prepared to receive visitors at his country villa in a few weeks. Strawberries and sugar, with a spoon, are on the bill of fare. Latch-string outside of the door.

—Captain Poe backed out the Nick Wall last evening for Fort Benton, her second trip. The first attempt being frustrated by a snag, from the injuries sustained by which she has entirely recovered. Capt. Poe wants to make the run in 33 days. Whether he goes through in that time or not, we are satisfied he will make good time. C. W. Blount and George Hughes are her pilots. The Nick Wall is drawing only 27 inches, having taken a limited freight here. She has a full cargo engaged at Omaha, through John N. Bofinger and other parties. It is rather curious that the Nick Wall gets six and a half per cent. per pound on her freight to Benton, with a surety of good water all the way, while the boats which preceded her were loaded at much lower rates and have suffered from low water. Some of her freight is for forts on the way, and are regular rates.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 85⅞.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 47¼f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 139@139⅛.

CAMBRIA COUNTY has instructed her delegates to support Governor GEARY for renomination. Armstrong has done likewise.

THE State Republican Convention will meet at Philadelphia on the 23d, and not the 29th of the present month, as generally supposed.

IT is conceded on all sides that Hon. H. W. WILLIAMS will be the unanimous nominee of the Republican State Convention for the Supreme Bench.

A SPECIAL election for Judge in the Muskingum district, of Ohio, has resulted in a close vote. with the odds in favor of WOOD, the Republican candidate.

OLD iron rails are largely imported from England, via Baltimore, for re-manufacture in the mills of this State. Some six thousand tons have arrived within the past four months.

THE recent lease of the Fort Wayne road to the Pennsylvania Central will be submitted to the stockholders of the first, after their approval, at a meeting to be held in this city on the 24th of June.

AN interview, of some length, between Governor J. W. GEARY and the President, at Washington, on Wednesday, inspired a restless and ambitious reporter to telegraph to a Philadelphia journal an impending change in the Cabinet, the Governor taking, ere long, the post now held by Secretary BORIE. The rumor is plausible, but is not yet generally credited.

GOV. BAKER, of Indiana, does not accept the sufficiency of his Attorney General's opinion in favor of the validity of minority legislation. He has employed counsel to oppose an application to the Courts for a mandamus to enforce the Specific Appropriation bill as a valid Act. The Governor is a very good Republican, although he fails to agree with the new lights of the party.

SPECULATION carried prices bounding up in Wall street a week or two ago; the reaction has now set in, and the "bears" have their triumph. Only the rival speculators suffer, the country looking on with indifference, except that it would have larger restrictions imposed upon the power of cliques to lock up large amounts of greenbacks—a power which is altogether incompatible with the perfect independence of the National Treasury.

WE HEAR the names of Senator SUMNER, Ex-Governor CURTIN and Mr. J. W. FORNEY mentioned as the "Republican leaders" who counsel a partizan adoption of the Alabama issue with England. This specification is much more probable, than another which associates Senator HOWE with the proposition. We think that the three gentlemen first mentioned may, in the end, discover that they have over rated their own influence with the party, in undertaking this remarkable contract.

INADVERTENTLY we permitted a sentence to appear in our article on Life Insurance yesterday, which might have been construed to mean that our local companies are not as safe or secure as foreign rivals for public confidence. Such a belief we do not entertain. All of the Fire and Life Insurance Companies of this county are strongly built, and their affairs are so wisely and prudently conducted as to preclude the possibility of failure or treachery to the assured.

THE twentieth annual meeting, at Erie, of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society, was largely attended, and as usual with convenings of that very respectable body, the greatest degree of harmony, pleasantness and good feeling prevailed, and a general good time was had by all present. The address of the President, Dr. JOHN CURWEN, of Harrisburg, was exhaustive and masterly, and reflected the deep scientific knowledge and attainments of that gentleman, who deservedly occupies high place in his profession. The Erie Medical Society left nothing undone to ensure the enjoyment of their guests, and to impress upon all the hospitality and generosity of the people of their city.

THE Republican nominations were made on Wednesday in the city and county of Philadelphia, the results being on the whole satisfactory to the party generally. Some exceptions are taken to the re-nomination of a few of the old Representatives, but the other selections are approved on all sides. Of the thirteen Republican members in the last House, nine were candidates for a re-nomination. Of these, the following were successful in the Conventions: Messrs. Davis, Adair, Stokes, Hong, Bunn and Cloud, and Messrs. Foy, Hervey and Holgate were beaten. Messrs. Myers, Clarke, Subers and Kleekner were not candidates. We copy the list as adopted:

Senator—1st district, Wm. W. Watt.
Representatives—1st district, S. B. Thomas; 2d, George Maxwell; 3d, ——; 4th, William Elliott and Joseph Bready; 5th, Jos. K. McCammon; 6th Robert Graham; Robert Johnson; 8th, James V. Stokes; 9th, James Berry; 10th, Elisha W. Davis; 11th, Wm. M. Bunn; 12th, Alexander Adaire; 13th, Joseph A. Geisz; 14th, John Cloud; 15th, Adam Albright; 16th, M. C. Hong; 17th, Watson Comly; 18th. James Miller.

COMMON DEFAMERS.

What if a public journal, in view of the conviction, here and there, of ministers of the gospel for unlawful sexual intercourse, should denounce all clergymen as abominably licentious! Or, in view of the other fact, that some business men resort to forgery, or go to Harrisburg or Washington and procure legislation by bribery, should denounce the whole business community as composed of swindlers and corruptionists! Would there be a single honorable or decent man who would not resent such sweeping calumnies? Surely it would be insisted that individual offenders should be specified; that the accusations should be supported by proper proof; and that the condemnation should go no farther than the evidence. If it should so happen that the wholesale accuser was not possessed of moral character enough to furnish out an African gorilla, he would instantly be suspected and charged with having unworthy and base ends to attain by unfounded defamation.

Are not men in the public service entitled to be judged by the same rules as other men? That there are corrupt politicians, we know. That some such get into public stations, is lamentably true. But whoever asserts that all politicians and public men are corruptionists, is a willful liar; or, perhaps, a baser thing still—a wretch who is striving to divert attention from his own shortcomings, by slandering his betters.

For many years, it has been our lot to mingle a good deal with politicians and persons in public employments. We have found black sheep among them, as among other sorts of men. But, as a body, they will compare favorably, in point both of truthfulness and honesty with their fellow-citizens. If there are scurvy politicians, there are clergymen, lawyers, physicians, bankers, merchants, manufacturers, mechanics, laborers, and even editors, who have no grace to spare, but stand in need of much more than they have to transform them into saints.

There can be no sellers without buyers. If a legislator sells his vote, a business man buys it, in favor of a scheme out of which he expects to make money. In nine cases out of ten business men who give bribes will go home, roll up the whites of their eyes, and publicly thank God that they are not corrupt like members of the Legislature. We do not invest much faith in such men's denunciation of dishonesty in public men. They would be better employed in reforming their own morals.

We are always ready to hold up to reprobation any public man against whom due proof of rottenness is made; just as we never fail to condemn those pests of society whose vocation consists in indiscriminate defamation of their fellow citizens.

REPUBLICAN FREEDOM.

Our wisest friends in Tennessee concur in favor of a liberal policy on the question of suffrage. The leading Republican journals support the position which Gov. SENTER has taken, and it gains daily upon the approval of the masses of the party. We feel a strengthened confidence that the results of the canvass in that State, conducted, as it will be, mainly on this issue, will be felt beyond its borders, substantially settling the same question in Missouri, West Virginia and the four States yet unreconstructed. In those States which have been reorganized since the collapse of the rebellion, this question of amnesty and suffrage must be left to their respective constitutional adjustments, controlled as these may be by future local amendment in the interests of a more liberal public policy.

The Albany Evening Journal says:

While we acknowledge that full affranchisement must come, and that the time for its promulgation ought speedily to arrive, yet we cannot overlook the fact that there are grave dangers in such a course—dangers threatening to the peace and security of life and property. The disturbances in Georgia are full of warning. The sullen attitude assumed by leading exponents of ultra rebel sentiment, the vile threats and vicious actions from reckless Southern residents, admonish us to be cautious how we restore to them their forfeited rights.

The disturbances in Georgia have no proper relation to the domestic policy of the organized States. For the continuance of those disorders, the Federal government must be held responsible, just so far as that government has, and the State authorities have not, the power to repress them, and shall fail to exercise it. Georgia is in law, and should be in fact, to-day, still under the Federal tutelage. Her case is certainly not that of a people who are themselves only and wholly responsible for the maintenance of their own domestic peace. That is the case of Tennessee, not of Georgia, and the considerations which hold in one case do not apply to the other.

We regard the Federal responsibility for the domestic peace of these States as measurably at an end, from the hour that we recognize their complete restoration to the Union. Thenceforward, so long as their local governments shall violate none of the fundamental stipulations attending upon that restoration, we must agree that the people of Alabama, or the Carolinas, as of Pennsylvania or Iowa, shall be perfectly at liberty to indulge themselves in any degree or variety of public or private outrage, which their laws shall permit or their local authorities shall see fit to wink at. Let them murder and burn, assassinate by the way-side or hang by mob-law, as much as they like, so long as they shall keep their hands off from any Federal rights either of individuals, or of the nation at large. It is their affair, not ours. We can stand it if they can. We may be sure that they will ultimately find their own interests in quite another policy—and that we need not expect any permanent change until they shall choose to inaugurate it themselves.

Are we to hold those States and peoples forever in the Federal leading-strings? Are we so greedy of needless responsibilities, that we can leave none to the peoples, and their authorities, who, are to that extent, alone directly concerned?

The States reconstructed and restored must govern themselves, within the sphere of their local powers under the Federal Constitution. If any or all of them shall see fit to become unanimously anti-Republican in their politics, it is their right, and we should be powerless to prevent it. We may as well make up our minds to that at once. It is enough for us to know that we have imposed upon those stiffly rebellious necks, a yoke which no State action of theirs can ever shake off, which no popular violence can shiver, and which is ample to protect every Federal right of every citizen, of whatsoever race or condition. Outside of that yoke, we must give them the rein, which we have no longer a right to hold, and let them manage their domestic affairs as they will.

This question of affranchisement is to be the leading one,—it is so already—in the domestic politics of the once-slave-holding States. Many wise and patriotic Republicans of the North concur heartily with others of the South in recommending an immediate and universal affranchisement, as a measure of unquestionably sound policy. There are ample evidences that this policy is going to win. We are glad of it. By the three amendatory Articles, we have already taken every needful bond for the Federal duties of those peoples. Now they should be restored to a local freedom as absolute as that which the North enjoys,—the same Federal Constitution binding over all,—and we need borrow no trouble about the local consequences. Whether those eleven States are to be Democratic or Republican, the majority is bound to rule, and if we are not in the National majority, we have no other course but to submit to the minority situation, make the most of it, and do our best to reverse it constitutionally.

The sooner the four States still unorganized shall be fully restored, the better for the country. The more speedily and decisively Republicanism shall wash its hands of all future responsibilities for their internal peace and good order, outside the lawful reach of Federal obligations, after their restoration to the Union, the better it will be for the party. And the more heartily and universally the friends of the Union, within those States, shall agree upon the prompt abrogation of every local restriction upon the absolute freedom of either political or personal citizenship, the happier that will be for the peace and the solid prosperity of those States.

THE Zanesville Times says:

We are now told, by good authority, that the building of the railway line from Zanesville to Dresden will be completed at an early day, and that arrangements have been made to put the entire line under contract.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The question of Lay Delegation in the Methodist Episcopal Church, seems to be getting fairly before the membership of that denomination. We believe whenever the issue is clearly set forth that the people will look more favorably upon the measuret than heretofore. Many who bitterly opposed the reform, when the vote was taken before, are now in favor of it, simply because that it does not propose representation in the same form that other Methodists have adopted, and because it does not interfere with the appointments of ministers. What is proposed is simply to introduce laymen into the General Conference, the law making body. The vote in some of the leading cities, where there are a number of churches, has been about the ratio of eighteen for, to one against. The Christian Advocate of this city reports as follows: Pittsburgh Conference, 440 for, 172 against; Erie Conference, 706 for, 251 against, and other Conferences, principally in the West, 1,871 for, 458 against. By private letter from New York we are advised that the vote reported to the Local Committee at that point was two thousand for, four hundred against. The general impression prevails that the measure will be carried, although strenuous efforts are making by some persons to prevent the adoption of this new feature, and, too, especially, by ministers who were members of the late General Conference, who agreed to submit the question to the "godly consideration" of the people. Several of the churches in the two cities and immediate neighborhood have voted. Liberty Street takes the vote Tuesday next, and we believe Smithfield will likewise next week.

The fifteenth quadrennial session of the United Brethren Church closed its session at Lebanon, Pa, on the first inst. Never has that Church enjoyed such prosperity as during the past four years. No material change was made in the Book of Discipline. The Conference made provision that the Superintendent's of Sunday Schools must be members of the Church. The law prohibiting the introduction of choirs and instruments of music into their churches, was modified as to be a rule of advice. The law on secret societies was not materially modified. Like the old law, it is prohibitory. An effort was made to provide for lay delegation, but the body was not ready to adopt it. Rev. Milton Wright was elected editor of the Religious Telescope, and Rev. D. Berger, who has so ably managed that paper for the last four years, has been appointed associate editor. Well as the paper has been conducted, we expect the editors will be able to furnish us with even a better paper than before.

The Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, at its late meeting, voted to require the Mission Presbytery of India, that had sent a protest against the action of the Synod which suspended George H. Stuart, to return within a year to its allegiance, and notified them that, if they refused, a competent person will be sent out to take possession of the schools and property. We see by our exchanges that the Synod has lost one-half of its ministerial members during four years, dwindling from fifty-three to twenty-seven, in spite of twenty accessions.

The Liberal Christian represents that the Unitarian Church at New Bedford has voted to dispense with the bread and wine in the celebration of the Lord's Supper. The sacrament is not to be given up, but improved by suitable vocal exercises; while the time spent in distributing the elements will be devoted to meditation and silent prayer.

The progressive Jews are urging reform in certain things, especially in the matter of Church ritual. A meeting of Rabbis is to be held in New York City shortly, to discuss various topics relating to reform. Many of the more liberal Jews are in favor of not only giving up the Hebrew praying in the Synagogues, but of abrogating the laws in reference to food, and announcing that a personal Messiah is no more to be expected.

The Independent gives an account of colored people of Cincinnati having become dissatisfied with one of their schools, and that Catholic priests immediately opened a school in the neighborhood of the disaffected parties, and bade them send their children free of expense. This generous offer resulted in gathering over one hundred children under Catholic influence.

According to a French paper the Pope has invited Mousiynor Dupanloup, Bishop of Orleans, to be President of the approaching Œcumencical Council.

The progressive movement inaugurated in a few of the Presbyterian churches, establishing a rotary eldership, is likely to be abandoned, in view of the Old School Assembly having overruled the action of a church in adopting the plan.

Dr. Strebel, says the Independent, of Wurtemburg, has a book against Methodism, in which it styles it "spiritual brandy." That's nothing new for books being published to try to wipe out Methodism, or to apply epithets beneath the dignity of gentlemen. It got its name by an epithet that was thought would be regarded offensive at the time.

The General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, having failed to make any appropriation to start a mission in Italy, Rev. John S. Ayer, a superannuated minister, has just given one thousand dollars to aid in the establishment of a Methodist Episcopal Mission in Italy. It is expected other generous contributors will add to this sum sufficient to open a mission at an early day.

Rev. Mr. Parker opened his address before the Woman's Missionary Society, at Boston, lately, with the striking sentence, "We are not here to consult how to give two millions of women the ballot, but three hundred millions eternal life."

We find the following prayer of a negro in one of our exchanges that is touchingly eloquent, though in broken and simple language: "Oh, Lord, bless de teacher who come so far to 'struct us in de way to heaven. Rock her in de cradle of love. Backen de word of power in her heart, dat she may have souls for her hire, and many stars in her crown in de great gettin' up mornin' when de general roll is called. And when all de battles is over, may she fall kivered with victory, be buried wid de honors of war, and rise to wear de long white robe in glory, and walk de shinin' streets in silver slippers, down by de golden sunrise, close to de great white throne, and dere may she s'rike glad hands wid all her dear scholars, and praise you, O Lord, for ever and for ever, for Jesus' sake Amen."

Reference was made not long since to the excellent course of sermons on "Immorality," by Rev. B. F. Brooke, who entered upon the Rectorship of Christ Episcopal Church, Allegheny City, about the first of May last. During this brief period much interest has been awakened in the parish, and the congregation has become large and interesting. The week night services, preparatory to confirmation, last week were also productive of good. On Sabbath evening Bishop Kerfoot preached an excellent and appropriate sermon, after which twenty-five persons were confirmed by the Bishop. The services were impressive and profitable. Rev. Mr. Brooke has much cause for congratulation for the success attending his labors in such a brief space of time.

ISN'T IT about time for the GAZETTE and the Commercial to renew their mutual felicitations over the slaughtered "rings," in this and other counties of the Commonwealth?

The Republican Situation in Pennsylvania.

The efforts of such papers as the Pittsburgh Commercial and the Harrisburg State Guard to make the people believe that the Republican party is a corrupt concern, have been attended with this much success. They have spread wide through the country the impression that the Republican party of Pennsylvania is on its last legs, and will be defeated next fall unless something is done for its relief. This has brought together quite a convocation of party doctors to suggest remedies for its sickly state. As usual the panaceas proposed for its ailments are as numerous as those who consider themselves called on to prescribe them. "The dominant party in Pennsylvania,' says one of these physicians (in Washington) "will succumb next fall unless the Alabama question be made a party issue." "One more chance remains," says another (in New York) "for the Republicans to secure a victory; they must join forces with the workingmen and labor reformers." A third of these sage curators noticing that the Typographical Union has decided adversely to the negro's claim of admission to membership, thinks that the Republican party, to save itself, should side against these workingmen's Unions.

As the doctors in this case, as in most others, disagree, the party is at liberty to choose its own course. In the first place, we do not think its disease is nearly as bad as represented, and in the second place, the remedies offered would certainly make it worse. When the Republican party of this State, or of the country, is driven to seek outside and demagogical issues to save its life, the people will know that its life is not worth saving. The party was born and raised on the principle of equal rights. When it deserts that and seeks to attach itself to other and less noble principles it will die, and ought to. The Republican party in Pennsylvania is in some danger. It has been brought into it partly by the corruption and extravagance of some of its official representatives last winter, but far more by the false assertions of certain journals calling themselves Republican which have perseveringly represented that corruption and extravagance as pervading the whole organization. The true remedy for this state of things is to choose good men for our candidates for office for the fall elections. In Allegheny county we have already done so, and as far as we can hear, in many other counties of the State. If now the same principal be applied to our candidates for State offices, the good old party which, by Democratic confession, is the party of "moral ideas," will once again triumph over the party of aristocracy and prejudice in the Keystone State. Dispatch.

TALKING of Trans-Atlantic steamship lines, and the existing needs for their establishment to maintain the commercial interests of Philadelphia, here is an extraordinary exhibition of good sense, in the Age, of the 9th, which observes:

We do not want lines of European steamships such as launched on a sea of champaigne in Parlor C, of the Continental Hotel, but first class vessels, built by Philadelphia mechanics, with the American flag floating at the peak and Philadelphia painted upon the stern. Have our merchants sufficient pluck, spirit and energy to establish and support such a line or lines? If not, the lines of coastwise steamers might as well be hauled off, and and all claims to commercial importance be at once and forever withdrawn.

THE Scranton Republican says:

We trust there is nothing in the flying reports that Messrs. Curtin and Forney will try to commit the Republican party of Pennsylvania to a war cry against England. If true, we protest against it. We want no war with England, and there is no sufficient ground for advocating it. The Republican party must not be committed to any such wrongful and insincere policy. The days of claptrap are passed. Let the Republican policy hereafter be that of men of sense and reason. If we cannot conquer by these signs, we had better disband.

The Titusville Herald stands to its guns and insists that its recently published monthly oil report was correct in every particular. The figures were revised before and after the publication, with like result, an establishment of a large decrease in production. It accounts for the great falling off between the yield of April and May in this manner:

The enlargement in the product during April was caused by a return of favorable weather, unusual success in the torpedoing and resuscitating of old wells, the continuous working of the wells, the largely increased use of benzine, and an ordinary average yield from the new wells. But another cause, and one more potent than any other, with the exception of the use of benzine, was that there had been more or less of an accumulation of oil in the sand rocks throughout the region during the cold weather when the wells were not pumped continuously. This accumulation was exhausted during April, as the weather was favorable, and consequently there was a material falling off in the product of the old wells during May. The quantity of benzine used during May was smaller and the average yield from the new wells was light. We should here mention that in a majority of the districts benzine has but little effect after the third and fourth application.

THE excitement and disorder, into which the Republican Conventions of Venango county was thrown, by an attempt to exclude certain votes as irregular and fraudulent, prompt the Meadville Republican to say:

These lively manifestations of bad blood in County Conventions are periodically exemplifying the beauties of the "Crawford County System"—a system which originated in political trickery and best exists through political knavery. If it is right to disfranchise three or four hundred good and true Republicans because three or four fraudulent votes are accidentally or designedly slipped into the ballot-box of a district at a primary election, then the "Crawford County System" is a good thing—otherwise it is a very bad thing. If County Conventions sustain such a rule it gives all the advantage they need to the knaves and tricksters, and the honest and reliable men of the party are placed at their mercy. Had we not best consider the plan of returning to the old "delegate system," or if any better can be suggested let us hear it?

THE Governor of Georgia seems at last to have taken heart to try the application of a curb upon the lawlessness of a portion of the people. Whereupon, says a dispatch:

The Ku-Klux papers are filled with incendiary articles on the subject, denouncing Governor Bullock for calling on the military to assist the Sheriff. The Chronicle and Sentinel, published at Augusta, says to-day that the action of Bullock shows very clearly the dangerous ground we tread upon. It will furnish us a lesson which will not pass unheeded. It proves that Bullock is determined to precipitate the people of the State, if he can, into a condition which will make the devils in hell shout and rejoice when they hear his detested name.

—At the closing session of the American Institute of Homeopathy, at Boston, yesterday, the Constitution was amended so as to permit women as members by a vote of eighty to thirty two. Mr. David Thayer, of Boston, was chosen President, and Dr. R. Ludlam, of Chicago, Secretary. The next meeting will be held in Chicago on the 7th of June next.

THE TRUSS.

The truss is an instrument, or rather an appliance, employed to retain the bowels to their proper place, when they have been forced out of their natural position, and this forms a disease called a rupture or hernia. Hernia is reducable or or not. When not reducable, it becomes strangulated or incarcerated, a condition of always more or less danger, and requiring, in most cases, a surgical operation before the intestines can be restored to their proper position. When not strangulated primarily, ruptures are liable to become so by accident or neglect, hence, the necessity of trusses to keep the intestines in their proper place, and if possible to cure the disease by closing the opening through which the bowels protruded. In times past trusses have been regarded as palliative remedies rather than the means of effecting a radical cure. Dr. Keyser, however, of this city, who has devoted a great deal of thought and reflection to the subject of hernia, and besides has had over twenty-five years of practical experience in the application of trusses, is of the opinion that a large port on of cases can be radically cured. He attributes the failure to cure, in most cases, to the ineffi iency of the trusses used, or the want of proper adjustment. He maintains that there are few conditions of the human body requiring greater skill and capacity than those in which there is a protrusion of any part, and much more so when the part is so intimately connected with human health and life as are the intestines. Trusses of every kind and at prices suitable to all may be had in great variety at Dr. KEYSER'S GREAT MEDICINE STORE, 167 Liberty street, or at his private consulting rooms, No. 120 Penn street, from ten A. M. until four P. M. Every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, at the store, for free consultation from our to six P. M., and eight to nine at night.

USEFUL INSTITUTION.—No more useful place can be found than the great medicine store of Dr. Keyser, at 167 Liberty street, where the Doctor gives three free days for consultation from 4 to 6 P. M. every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. It is a matter of some moment to the afflicted that they should know this and avail themselves of an opportunity not often afforded.

CATARRH.—Dr. Keyser, at 120 Penn street, will undertake and cure the worst case of Catarrh, by an entirely new system, so as to completely eradicate it from the system. He does so by restoring the general health of the system. Let those interested inquire if this is true.

HOME QUESTIONS FOR THE SICKLY AND DEBILITATED.

Is it worth while to endure penal torture after every meal, when indigestion can be immediately relieved and permanently cured by so agreeable a remedy as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS?

Does it pay to be compelled by debility and languor to abandon active business, when brain, nerve and muscle can be braced up, and the whole system restored to a healthy condition by a course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Why approach the dinner table daily with a positive disgust for all that is savory and delicious, when a vigorous appetite for even the plainest fare is created by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Is it wise to live in this bright world as if it were a dungeon, gloomy, discontented and miserable, when the worst case of hypochondria can be cured in a week by such a pleasant and wholesome exhilarant as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Can it be possible that any person of bilious habit will run the risk of remittent fever or bilious colic, when he can tone and regulate the great secretive organ with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Is it not a species of moral insanity for any merchant, farmer, mechanic or traveler to be without the best known antidote to the effects of poisoned air and impure water, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Considering the harrassing and depressing nature of the functional derangements to which woman is subject is it not astonishing that any invalid of the feebler sex should hesitate to seek the certain relief afforded in such cases, by the genial operation of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

These are questions of deeper interest than any of the political dogmas of the day, and those whom they concern are invited to give them something more than a passing thought.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of the United States Engineers, in the Custom House Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., until 6 o'clock P. M. on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16th, 1869, for furnishing Two Light Draught Steamers, Crane Boats and Flats, to be employed by contract by day's work in removing Obstructions from the Ohio River,

VALUABLE CITY LOTS FOR SALE.

The undersigned, as trustee in the partition of the real estate of AGNES KNOX, Deceased,
By order of the District Court of Allegheny county, will sell at public sale, on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1869,
At 2 o'clock P. M., that very valuable property on Fifth avenue, city of Pittsburgh, consisting of TWO LOTS. First—A lot fronting on Market street 30 feet and extending, the same width, along the south side of Fifth avenue 101 feet to Market alley. Second—A lot on the opposite side of Market alley, fronting on Fifth avenue 20 feet and running back, preserving the same width, along Market alley 30 feet. On the first mentioned lot are FOUR FRAME TENEMENTS, and on the other a THREE STORY BRICK BUILDING.
These lots are among the most valuable in the city of Pittsburgh, being on the principal street and in the centre of business. The attention of capitalists is particularly invited to them, as they are desirable chiefly for the value of the lots, the buildings not being of much consequence, and possession for building purposes can be obtained on 3 months' notice. The property now rents for over eight thousand dollars. The purchaser will receive the rents after July 1st.
THE TERMS OF SALE.
One-third cash, and the remaining two-thirds in two equal annual payments, with semi-annual interest from day of sale, secured by bond and mortgage on the premises.
J. W. F. WHITE,
June 5, 1869. TRUSTEE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 11, 1869.

Money is easing up in New York and stocks have nearly recovered the entire decline, with few exceptions.

Governments are heavy and declined at the last board about one-half per cent, on the rise in gold here and the dull feeling in Paris. Fyreign bankers pretend to be informed of anticipated troubles in France and have put up the price of their bills and are buying gold.

Gold opened at 139, declined to 138⅞ and closed very strong at 139⅝.

Money is getting more stringent here and banks are less inclined to discount liberally. Business is very dull.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 11, 1869.

The sudden change in the aspect of the money market this afternoon formed a prominent feature of Wall street and turned the whole tide of speculation in the Stock Exchange from the bear to the bull once more. Early in the day the demand was very pressing and call loans were made as high as ⅛@½ per cent. per diem, in addition to the legal rate per annum in currency. As three o'clock drew near, however, there was a sensible abatement in the demand, and loans were made at 7 per cent. coin and currency before the banks closed, while afterwards money was offered at seven per cent. currency, in excess of the wants of brokers who had delayed making back accounts. Sterling firmer. The market is bare of prime bankers' bond and commercial bills; 9⅜ asked for sixty day bills and 9½ refused. Gold active and buoyant, opened at 139, and closed at 139⅝ on private telegrams quoting 5 30s down to 79⅛@79⅝ in London, and a rise in sterling to a point close to specie shipping rates. Rumors of further riots in France also had an effect. Carrying rates 7½ per cent., also 1-16@3-16 per day. Clearances seventy-four millions.

Governments lower but closed steady. Coupons of '81, 121@121¼; do. '62, 122@122¼; do. '64, 116¾@117; do. '65, 118¼@118½; do. new, 119¾@119½; do. '67, 119¾@119⅝ do. '68, 119⅛@119⅜; 10-40s, 108@108¼; Pacifics, 106½@107.

State bonds steady: Missouris, 92¼; old Tennessees, 66; new do., 62½; old North Carolinas, 58¼; new do., 54; old Virginias, 56; new do., 61.

Stocks were quiet during the morning, but prices advanced 1@3 per cent. on demand to cover speculative sales. In the afternoon the market closed active and very firm.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 12, 1869.

The metal market, as is usually the case at this season of the year, is quiet and dull, the volume of business being comparatively light, while in regard to prices, there are no important changes, though the tendency, if anything, is downward. The time is near at hand when the mills usually stop to take stock and make repairs and, as a consequence, they are buying sparingly, not being disposed to carry over any stock. There is still some inquiry for desirable brands of foundry irons and but little of this kind in market.

BOOKS ANNOUNCED.

HARPER & BROTHERS, New York, announce the following works in press: "Buffum's Notes of Travel," Sights and Sensations in France, Germany, and Switzerland; "Bourne's London Merchants;" "Roosevelt's Five Acres Too Much," and "Meta's Faith." Harper's Hand-Book of Foreign Travel in Europe and the East," with a Railroad Map, corrected up to 1868, and "Harper's Phrase Book," new editions, and capital books for travellers crossing the ocean. This house has just commenced the issue of Thackeray's Novels, with Thackeray's Own Illustrations, in paper covers. "Vanity Fair" and "The Virginians" are out. Remarkably cheap and well gotten up.

G. P. PUTNAM & SON, New York, have just published several excellent works, notices of which will soon appear, namely: 'Audubon, the Naturalist," "The New West," by Charles L. Brace; "Norman Leslie," and "The Stranded Ship." Bayard Taylor's new work, "By-Ways of Europe," is meeting with much favor and is likely to be widely circulated.

FIELDS, OSGOOD & Co., Boston, are issuing some capital books, such as, "Our New Way Round the World," by Carleton; "Two Years Before the Mast," by R. H. Dana, Jr., and "Tom Brown's School Days at Rugby." "Malbone," an Old Port romance, is just out. These publishers have commenced the publication of Thackeray's works, uniform with the Household Edition of Charles Reade's. The first volume, "Vanity Fair," having just appeared.

CHARLES SCRIBNER & Co., New York, announce Dr. Bushnell on "Woman's Suffrage;" President Woolsey on "Divorce," "Waterloo," "Foreign Missions," and "Great Hunts," of the Illustrated Library of Wonders.

Also this week, "Mind and Brain," "History of European Morals from Augustus to Charlemagne," and "The Dead Guest." Next week will be published "Jeremiah, and His Lamentations," "The Lost Manuscript," and "Electricity in its Relations to Practice." Several books heretofore announced, and other valuable works, are in press and will soon be out.

LIPPINCOTT & Co., Philadelphia, have in press the following: "Adventures of a Baltimore Trader," "A Wreath of Rhymes," "Daisy"—Second Vol., "Sermons on the "Lord's Prayer," "The Countess Gisela;" A new work by "Onida;" "Evidence of Natural and Revealed Theology;" "The Reason Why Series;" "Stories for Sunday, illustrating the Catechism;" "Hints for Six Months in Europe;" "Historical Sketch of Nazareth Hall;" "Apostles of Mediaeval Europe;" "Alfred the Great." The contents of the July number of Lippincott's Magazine are rich and varied. It will contain the opening chapter of Anthony Trollope's new novel, "The Vicar of Bulhampton."

JUNE MAGAZINES.

Harper for June is the first number of the thirty-ninth volume, and gives evidence of even a brighter career than ever before. Its conductors neither spare money or talent to make it what it really is, a first class magazine. It occupies a place in magazine literature by itself. Notwithstanding the difficulty of popularizing a subject like the Aurora Borealis, Prof. Loomis has succeeded in conveying information in a popular form that will be valuable to the general reader, and the admirable illustrations will also serve to facilitate the object. The papers, "Said Pacha of Egypt," and "A Cornish Carnival," though quite opposite in character, are well prepared by their respective authors. The new novel, "A Brave Lady," by the author of "John Halifax," as it progresses, increases in interest. The verses of Fizthugh Ludlow and Rev. Newman Hall will attract attention. The usual editorial departments at the close are attractive, instructive and entertaining.

The Atlantic Monthly for this month contains the concluding pages of Higginson's Oldport Romance of "Malbone," quite a popular story. The article of Trowbridge, called "A Carpet-bagger in Pennsylvania," will attract attention because it discusses a question of vital interest to our readers. The attitude of Clarke on "Budhism; or, the Protestantism of the East," will find many readers and likely elicit sharp criticism. Mr. Bowles contributes another of his substantial papers on the Pacific Railroad. In striking contrast to these practical papers, is Whittier's beautiful ballad entitled "Norembega," which we printed some days ago. The "Hamlets of the Stage," "Chinese Servants," "The Foe in the Household," will all attract readers. The Literary Reviews are, as usual, worth reading and indicate careful preparation.

The practical papers of Lippincott's Magazine are among the excellent features of this month. The names indicate their worth. "On Expression in Architecture," we have views on a subject of importance, both sound and sensible. The article of Mr. Wells', "Using Strength with Economy," contains valuable thoughts for the times. In the warning of Mr. Amosa Walker on "The Prospects of Trade," there is much to learn. Beside the capital stories of "Beyond the Breakers," and "The Maiden Soldier," we have a pretty story just commenced with the taking title of "Only No Love." "The English on the Continent" is opportune, in view of the tide of travel to Europe. The annual "Monthly Gossip" is crispy and well prepared. This magazine is elegantly printed and presents a showy appearance.

Putnam opens with an article of substantial value, entitled "Ferdinand De Lesseps, and the Suez Canal." We note with pleasure the capital and readable notes of Mr. G. P. Putnam, the honored senior of the publishing firm. The "Stranded Ship" is a finality and will repay reading. The same may be said of "To-Day," and "My Brass Valise." The reminiscences of Mrs. Browning, Mrs. H B. Stowe, and Mrs. Somerville, are brief and just enough to make the reader desire more. The papers on the "Fine Arts," "Four American Birds," will command attention, and so will Cranch's "Summer Pictures." The editorial departments, under the supervision of Bayard Taylor, E. C. Stedman, S. S. Conant and Clarence Cook, are conducted with singular ability. Putnam closes another volume with a better reputation, and we hope with brighter prospects than ever before.

It is conceded that the Galaxy grows better each succeeding number. Reade's story "Put Yourself in His Place," and "Geo. Elliott and Geo. Lewes," occupy considerable space and will be extensively read. Many will be surprised to find a contribution from General McClellan on "General Jormini." Professor Draper gives us another of his sensible articles on the preparation of animal food for the table. Richard Grant White has another paper in his usual scholarly style, on "To Be Being or Not To Be Being." Abbott's article on the "Throne of Louis Phillipi," is in the author's usual florid style, but quite readable. Lovers of well prepared departments will admire the "Miscellany," "Drift Wood"and "Nebulae." Sheldon & Co. have reason to be proud of their magazine.

Hours at Home is brimful of good articles, solid, instructive and entertaining. The serials "Motherless Girls," and "Christopher Kroy," still hold the attention of the readers of this magazine from month to month. The opening article by Prof. Porter, on "Books and Reading," is high toned and worthy of a careful reading. "Prussia" is a solid article. Much valuable information may be gleaned from "Syrian Rambles" and "Model Lodging-Houses." The poetry, as usual, is fine and of the right ring. A "Vision of Rest" is a sweet song. "Castle Building" and "Parted" are meritorious. This number is the second of Volume IX. This monthly deserves to be circulated widely.

We repeat what we have uttered at different times that Our Young Folks is getting better every monthly issue. Its value is enhanced for the practical and useful drift of the principle articles. Too frequently the case, persons writing for young folks, either write too elaborately and above their comprehension, and string together glittering sentences. Let any one read such sensible articles as "Gardning for Girls," and "Candy Making," and they will agree with us most heartily. Valuable information is embodied in Trowbridge's article at a "Coal Shaft," "The World We Live On." "The Story of a Bad Boy" don't grow heavy as it progresses. It fairly sparkles with gems. We are promised next month a paper from Mr. Hale on "How to Write," and an article from Mr. Parton, whose name is widely known.

THE MASONS HOME-BOOK is the title of a new monthly publication by LEON HYNEMAN, 814 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. In its salutatory it asserts that "it is essential and vitally important for every Free Mason to have a comprehension of his Masonic statues, and his legal claim as a member of the fraternity. The new monthly will give such light on these subjects from authoritative sources that there will be no excuse for any Free Mason remaining ignorant of the original principles and the foundstion of the Masonic Order; its ethics and sublime morals having their basis deep in the consciousness, the inspirations of divinely gifted, illumined minds." Subscriptions for the work will be received at the Mirror office.

Our Own, conducted by Fannie Warner, contains quite a number of readable articles. The opening article, "My Aunt Esther's Story," will attract attention. "Robin, the Reaper is Courting Me," a poem, is handsomely illustrated. The other articles are short and pretty. The usual departments of "Fashions," "Fancy Work," etc., are well maintained.

The Riverside Magazine for June, like previous numbers, is illustrated with exquisite grace and beauty. The opening paper is an enjoyable article for youngsters. Amusing as some of the papers appear, there are two or three of solid merit, instructive as well as entertaining. The contributions of Hans Christian Andersen are worthy of special consideration. The article of this number, "The Cornet," by Andersen, will be appreciated by the young people. The illustrations are fine exhibitions of art.

Minutes of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 1869, reflect great credit on the Rev. W. H. Locke, A.M., pastor of Liberty street church, of this city, for the admirable manner in which they have been gotten up. At the time the Conference was in session in March, we gave full reports of its doings.

Phrenological Journal and Life Illustrated, published in New York, S. R. Wells, editor, is ably conducted. Much interesting matter is embodied in each monthly issue, outside of the domain of the specialty advocated, and of interest to the general reader.

The Manufacturer and Builder, started several months ago in New York, 37 Park Row, marks an era in this department of the mechanic art. We hail the advent of such publications, because they are helps of great value to those engaged in our manufacturing interests. The matter and illustrations are excellent.

The Little Corporal, of Chicago, is becoming famous among the young folks. It is edited with singular ability. Its editors understand the knack of preparing savory articles, and such as children can appreciate. The capital illustrations aid much in explaining the text.

The Proof-Sheet, issued by Collins & McLeester, Philadelphia, illustrates the highest style of typography. Its beautiful type, and other parts, shows the perfection that may be attained in the art.

THE men engaged at East St. Louis, Illinois, in boring to find rock to build one of the abutments of the Mississippi bridge, have not found it yet, although the iron tubes have been sunk to a depth of seventy-two feet. For some feet near the surface, of course, nothing but sand was met with, next came a layer of earth five or six inches thick, then about ten feet of quick sand, and coarse sand the rest of the distance; no gravel has been met. The tubes sunk are cast iron, four inches in diameter, and there is no rod. The apparatus for sinking these tubes is somewhat similar to a pile driver. The weight used is a piece of oak bound round with iron; it is 300 pounds.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the above medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city the six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2.

The Market Committee of City Councils will meet on Monday night next.

The Republican primary elections of Forrest county are appointed for the 25th of June.

The Olympic and Osceola Base Ball Clubs will play a match game in Union Park, Allegheny, this afternoon.

The new hose carriage for the Independence Fire Company has arrived. We have heretofore published a description of this elegant vehicle.

A Special Meeting of City Councils will be held Tuesday next at two o'clock. We understand the meeting is called at the instance of the Street Committee.

The Survey Committee of City Councils held a meeting yesterday at Laughlin's Station, on the Connellsville Railroad, to regulate Second avenue in that section of the city.

Complimented.—The Erie Dispatch says: The "Great Western" Band favored us with a delightful serenade last evening, a feat that no other band in the State can perform better. The cornet playing was especially fine.

Notice.—The ladies of John Wesley Chapel intend holding a grand Strawberry Festival on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, in Ashland Hall, Wylie street, for the benefit of the new church now being built. A cordial invitation to all well-behaved persons is extended. Rev. W. H. WILLIAMS.

A Good Appointment.—Officer Wm. V. Emmett, the gentlemanly and efficient policeman, who for some past has been on duty on Fifth avenue, between Smithfield and Wood street, was yesterday promoted to a Lieutenancy vice Joseph Thomas, resigned. The appointment is an excellent one, and a merited compliment to a faithful officer.

Found Drowned.—Coroner Clawson received a telegraphic dispatch from Springdale station, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, yesterday evening, stating that the body of a man had been found in the river at that place, and requesting him to come and hold an inquest. He left on the evening train, and probably held the inquest last evening.

New Car.—Yesterday morning the new silver palace sleeping car "G" arrived at the Union Depot, attached to the Philadelphia express train. The car has been chartered by a party from New York and Philadelphia, who propose making a trip to California and return, by way of the Union Pacific Railroad. General Moorhead joined the party.

The scientific classes of Lafayette College, Easton, propose visiting Pittsburgh in a body some time in the month of June. They will pass over the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, will inspect the large iron manufactories in the western part of the State, and besides increasing their store of knowledge they expect to have a good time generally.

The Monument.—A meeting of the Monumental Association will be held this afternoon at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, 53 Fifth avenue. The charter incorporating the Association has been received, and an organization will be effected under its provisions. The question of location will also come up for consideration and probably be finally settled. Interesting proceedings are expected.

A Long Nap.—A man who has been confined in the lock-up for several days past, having mania potu, was removed to his home yesterday, having recovered from the attack. He did not sleep for four days and nights previous to a quarter past ten o'clock Thursday morning, when, through the agency of a powerful narcotic, his nerves became sufficiently calm to allow him to sleep soundly, and he slept from that time till half-past eleven o'clock Friday morning, when he awoke perfectly sane.

The Champion Rider's Salary.—James Robinson, who wears the champion's belt, receives a salary equal to that of the President of the United States, besides having the expenses of himself and family, horses, grooms, &c., defrayed by the company in which he is engaged. He will ride his word-defying challenge act in Allegheny on Thursday, 17th inst. The extensive menagerie of Gardner & Kenyon, with a full troupe of equestrians, are attached to the same exhibition.

Sharpsburg Notes.—The religious interests of this thriving borough seem to keep pace with the secular business of the town. The ladies of the First Methodist (Protestant) Church are preparing to hold a Strawberry Festival, to assist in liquidating the debt on their new parsonage. The Baptist Church is now being frescoed and improved. The basement of the new M. E. Church is nearly completed, and will soon be ready for occupancy, and the two Catholic churches are kept open week days and Sundays, with a band of music occasionally as a subject of attraction.

A National Dispute.

John McGinley and George Wood, stone-masons, and respectively Irish and Scotch, had a dispute in regard to their nationality. McGinley finally, so it is alleged, enforced his argument by knocking Wood down and beating him badly. Wood, as a result, lodged information before Alderman McMasters against his assailant for assault and battery. The accused was arrested and compromised the case by paying the costs of the prosecution, when the information was withdrawn.

Allegheny County Work House.

The Board of Managers of the Allegheny County Work House have opened an office in the old fruit house building, St. Clair street, where the Business Committe of the Board, Messrs. Hugh S. Fleming and Wm. S. Bissell can be found every morning at nine o'clock.

These gentlemen are now devoting almost their entire time to the interests of the county and hope to be able to relieve the county jail of some of its inmates in few weeks.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Sixteenth Annual Conclave—Elections Procession—Oration, &c.—Pittsburgh Commandary Complimented—A Pleasant Trip—The Departure for Home.

The Sixteenth Annual Conclave of Knights Templars of the State, commenced on Wednesday morning at Erie, Pa. The city is crowded with visitors from various sections of the country where Commanderies have been organized. The representation in the Conclave is unusually large, and thus far the proceedings have been marked with much interest and harmony. In the morning at eight o'clock, the Grand Council of Cryptic Masons held their annual meeting when the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year: C. F. Knapp, M. P. G. M., James M. Porter, R. P. D. G. M., Geo. V. Maus. R. P. G. J. M., G. C. Shidle, R. P. G. P. C. of W., Chas. E. Meyer, R. P. G. M. of E., T. W. Wright, R. P. G. R.

The following were also elected officers of the Grand Commandery for 1869. The greatest uniformity prevailed, the few offices being carried by the successful candidates by heavy majorities:

Sir J. H. Hopkins, G. C., Sir H. B. McLean, D. G. C., Sir C. M. Howell, G. G., Sir Abraham Miller, (c.) G. C. G., Sir Rev. J. R. Dimm, G. Prelate, Sir F. J. Evans, G. S. W., Sir Nathan Smith, G. J. W., Sir R. A. O. Kerr, G. Treasurer, Sir Alfred Creigh, G. Recorder.

Most of the forenoon was consumed in the business of the Order and reception of visiting Sir Knights.

In the afternoon large crowds began to gather about the streets in anticipation of the Grand Parade, which was one of the finest affairs of the kind ever participated in by the Order. Over four hundred Sir Knights were in line in full uniform, and presented an exceedingly handsome appearance. The Pittsburgh Commandery is spoken of as being especially conspicuous and attractive. After passing through the principal streets, the procession was halted on Park Row, formed in double column and marched in from the rear with swords at a "present arms," the officers of the Grand Commandery leading the way to Farrar Hall, where the installation of Grand Officers took place. This ceremony is one of the most beautiful rites of the Order. Sir Knight J. H. Hopkins, after taking the oath of allegiance, and being invested with the insignia and jewels of his office, installed and invested the other officers in due form. On taking his place as Right Eminent Grand Commander of the State of Pennsylvania, he delivered a brief, stirring address, stating that he appreciated the high honor conferred upon him by the trust reposed; and exhorting them, with him, to follow the high teachings of the principles of the Order as the soldiers of Henry of Navarre followed the white plume of their leader.

After the installation, the Grand Commander introduced the Grand Prelate, Rev. J. R. Dimm, of Philadelphia, orator of the day, who delivered an eloquent and pertinent address on "Christian Knighthood," in which he dwelt at length, and in an able manner upon the principles and aims of the Order. The address was well received and frequently interrupted with applause.

At its conclusion, the ceremonies of the day were over, and the Conclave closed its session.

THE PITTSBURGH COMMANDARY.

The following account of a pleasure trip by the Pittsburgh Commandary, we clip from the Erie Dispatch of yesterday:

Most of the Sir Knight vistors took their departure for their homes yesterday forenoon, but the Pittsburgh Commandary had come on pleasure as well as business, and while a few went to Niagara Falls, the majority remained here to see the city and test its hospitality. Yesterday afternoon, a body of about sixty members of the Order, including most of the newly elected officers of the Grand Commandary, preceded by the splendid Great Western Band, marched down street to pay a visit to Captain Jouett and his staff, on board of the United States Steamer Michigan. The Captain, as everybody along the line of the Lakes knows, is a frank, genial, whole-soled man, every inch a gentleman, and as thorough paced in contributing to the hearty enjoyment of his friends in time of peace as he is in getting into the hottest of the fight when fighting is the order of the day, and of the last, we may say that Admiral Farragut considered Captain Jouett his right hand man. The visitors were received with a "square" welcome by the Captain, officers and crew of the Michigan, and after partaking of a little cheer in the cabin, whiled away an hour very pleasantly. The Great Western Band, considered the best in the State, were in high spirits and played everything from Yankee Doodle to Dixie, with more than usual gusto. Dignity was for the nonce pitched aside, and unreserved fun took its place. Some one found a sailor who could sing an excellent comic song, and he was straightway brought forward, giving "Captain Jinks" excellently. The next thing was a "break-down," rather irregular, as a dozen or more were trying to dance at once. After a short respite, the Sir Knights were called to order, a request having been made that Lieut. Smith, whose ability as an elocutionist is well known, should give them a reading. The "Wounded Soldier" was chosen and well rendered, as the applause testified, after which, with three hearty cheers and a tiger for Captain Jouett, the Michigan, her officers and crew, the Commandery retired. If Captain Jouett ever goes to Pittsburgh he will run more risk of capture and forcible detention, for a few days at least, than he has from any source since the war closed.

The United States steamer Michigan, mentioned in the foregoing article, was constructed in this city twenty-six years ago, and two years afterward was taken to Erie via the Erie Canal and launched. Among the number composing the pleasant party who met on the Michigan were George Neeld, who assisted in preparing and furnished the first stick of timber used in the steamer, James Reese, who drove the first rivet in her boilers, and W. A. Tomlinson, who built the engines first used upon her.

Before leaving the city a grand banquet was given by Mt. Olivet Commandary to the Sir Knights.

The Pittsburgh Commandary, which was complimented by the Grand Commandary, was accompanied by the Great Western band.

When they took their departure yesterday they were accompanied to the depot by Mayor Noble, several of the councilmen and a delegation of ladies.

A New Street Sweeping Machine.

We learn from the Chicago papers that James McDonald has invented and has now in operation in that city a street sweeping machine, by which the dirt, mud and dust is removed from the street and placed in a cart or a common wagon, to which the machine may be attached. It is said to be much lighter and performs its work much better than any other machine that has been contracted for the purpose. The agent, Mr. E. A. Chandler, is now in Baltimore, where they propose to adopt the machine. We hope he will bring his machine to this city and give our city fathers an exhibition of its workings, and if satisfactory that they will adopt it, as we need something of the sort very much.

Merit.

Prudential considerations are paramount in business as in everything else. We all feel that to obtain pre-eminence in any station or position of life, success, unequivocal success, must be insured—such as inures after counteracting the sternest opposition and all the stratagems of rivalry, only to make the merits of the enterprise appear the brighter. For true merit will eventually make itself known. Hence prudence should urge the fullest recognition of such enterprises in which true merit, attested by success, has been exhibited. In the science and practice of dentistry, Dr. Scott, whose dental laboratory our readers know is located at No. 278 Penn street, has evinced the most thorough proficiency. His study has long been the resort of the afflicted, and his practice is steadily increasing—the result of his long and intelligent labors.

To enumerate the many reasons that should induce those who are suffering from toothache or desire the insertion of artificial teeth, to visit Dr. Scott's laboratory, would be a repetition of the general opinion, and it is only necessary to add that he is at once reliable, avoids unnecessary delays, is perfect master of the art, performs an operation without pain, and withal is moderate in the matter of fees. His office is, as stated, at No. 278 Penn street.

A Beautiful Present.

A very pleasant affair took place in Curry Institute yesterday morning. The members of one of Prof. Curry's classes, consisting of about one hundred students, made him the recipient of a splendid silver tea set, from the celebrated firm of John Stevenson', Sons & Co., Market street, Pittsburgh.

The donors had carefully concealed the matter until 10 o'clock, A. M., when the set arrived, and was immediately presented by Miss Mary F. Matchett, of Allegheny City, in a neat little speech, to which Mr. Curry responded, and in appropriate terms expressed his high appreciation of the gift, and of the generous motives which prompted it. The whole affair passed off very pleasantly, and the teachers and pupils having visited the capacious saloon of Miersch & Brothers, Sixth street, and partaken of his choicest strawberries and ice cream, separated well satisfied.

The Machine of the Period.

The Americrn Button-hole, overseaming and general Family Sewing Machine for which Mr. James Espy is the agent in this section, office and salesrooms corner of Fifth avenue and Market street, entrance on Fifth avenue, is among all others entitled to the proud appellation which heads this item. It accomplishes rapidly and readily all the work the hand can do, and in much better manner. Its combinations, all embraced in one light and graceful piece of furniture, are invaluable additions and are but to be seen to be fully appreciated. Notwithstanding the broad field of work performed the American is simple and substantial in all its parts, not likely to get out of order, and can be successfully operated by a child, while the very reasonable price at which sold renders it the most popular in the market.

Church Dedication.

The elegant new Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Butler and Fortieth street, (formerly Lawrenceville) will be dedicated on to-morrow with appropriate services. Our readers will be pleased to learn that Bishop Simpson will preach the dedicatory sermon at half-past ten o'clock. It is expected Rev. Dr. S. H. Nesbit and Rev. E. A. Johnson, of the Christian Advocate, will preach, the former in the afternoon, (3¼ o'clock) and the latter at night. The services promise to be very interesting. Rev. J. A. Miller, pastor, deserves great credit for the successful termination of this worthy enterprise.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

How and When the Germans Propose to Celebrate It—Meeting at Turners' Hall—The Programme and Route of Procession.

It has been and still is the custom of our native citizens, in the celebration of our national anniversary, the Fourth of July, when it occurs on Sunday, as it does this year, to observe the day following or the preceding day, as might be decided upon in different localities, and in this city, we believe, it has been customary to hold the festivities on Monday the Fifth. This custom, it seems, is not entirely satisfactory to many of our German citizens, and they propose to make an innovation on the rule this year and observe Sunday, as we stated yesterday morning.

A meeting was held, relative to the matter, at Turner's Hall last evening, at which over forty different German benevolent and other societies were represented. The meeting was organized by calling Mr. C. F. Bowers to the Chair.

Mr. Bowers on taking the Chair stated the object of the meeting, and said that while intending to depart from the usual custom of the citizens in the matter, as to the day to be observed, it was not the intention to indulge in any sport or amusement, or do anything not appropriate to the day or occasion.

After considerable discussion a Committee was appointed to make arrangements for the celebration, and after a brief absence they reported the following programme of exercises:

The several societies and individuals who contemplate taking part in the celebration will meet at Turner's Hall, Sunday, at one o'clock P. M., when they will form in procession on Sixth avenue and march from there to Allegheny Diamond, when the Declaration of Independence will be read in English and German, after which there will be brief orations in both languages. The procession will reform and return to Turner's Hall, where it is expected to arrive at ten o'clock P. M.

The report was received and adopted.

It is the desire of those having the matter in charge that the celebration shall be quiet and orderly, and the object in having the ceremonies over at so early an hour is to prevent confusion that might otherwise ensue.

Peace Jubilee.

A few years ago when civil war convulsed our land and we seemed almost on the verge of ruin, there Providence gave us a Grant, who brought order out of confusion and established peace—in which all hearts rejoice. And now Boston is all agog over a national musical festival, the "Peace Jubilee." Now, reader, if you have been convulsed with racking toothache, if frowns have supplanted smiles, and your lips indulged in curses instead of blessings, Dr. Gillespie, No. 246 Penn street, by the use of his new laughing gas will bring rest to weary suffering, exchange comfort for misery, restore lost smiles, and bring again those days of blessings. Therefore, "Let us have Peace."

Triumph Over Opposition.

It cannot be disputed that success is the real—the only—test of merit. The very nature of causes and results will clearly explain how any enterprise, subjected to a thorough test of its qualities, and which has outlived competition, prejudice, and the most strenuous opposition, only to acquire a settled and more extended popularity, is the one which centres true merit. For this reason the Singer Sewing Machine is declared to enjoy an unrivalled reputation. The judgment of the best mechanics has pronounced its machinery perfect—because the simplest. Every one knows that complication is ruinous to perfection, and simplicity is its chief feature. The ladies invariably prefer it, after once witnessing its easy, yet most effective operation, no matter how enthusiastically they may have previously advocated other machines. We have only to add that if our readers wish to be convinced of the truth of these statements, they have only to visit the salesrooms of Messrs. Straw & Morton, at the corner of Sixth (late St. Clair) and Penn streets, and see the noiseless and perfect manner in which the "Singer" operates. Our word for it they will prefer it to all others after one trial.

The Life Insurance Question.

Some of the more intelligent and candid life insurance agents doing business in this city, who thoroughly understand the system of our home company, the Co-operative, admit its greater simplicity, equity and inherent strength as compared with the ordinary plans, but recommend the companies in whose service they are employed, and it is quite right and altogether natural that they should do so. Others, probably less thoroughly informed, and possibly less candid, occasionally misrepresent the "Co-operative." This may be quite natural, but it is not altogether right. All who wish to speak understandingly are invited to call at the Company's office, 128 Smithfield street, and get full information on the subject.

Books and Stationery.

Col. J. D. Egan has on hand at his establishment, Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street, a large and varied assortment of valuable works, treating of almost every conceivable subject, in al departments of knowledge. In the line of stationery, also, his stock will be found full and complete in every respect. Purchasers in need of anything in his line would do well to call at Col. Egan's establishment and examine the assortment. Some of the works he has on hand can not be purchased at any other establishment in the city. His prices are moderate and will be found satisfactory.

The Keystone Pottery.—Messrs. S. M. Kier & Company, proprietors of the Keystone Pottery, continue to manufacture daily that style and quality of Queensware and Bristol ware which has caused the firm to have such a wide-spread popularity. The great reason for the remarkable success of this manufactory lies in the quality of the wares produced and the prices at which they are sold. New in design, perfect in finish and elegant in appearance, they compare with advantage with any workmanship of the kind, either of home or imported manufacture. The wareroom, No. 363 Liberty street, contains a full selection of the wares, which can be examined at any time.

A. M., S. 2.—All must surrender to Constitution Bitters, for there is no concealing the fact that they are taking the lead of all other Bitters and are destined to become as famous and popular as any medicinal preparation in use. All unite in praising them, and when the people decide in favor of any thing of the kind, they are generally right. We are lately meeting a good many who are using the Constitution, and it does us good to see how healthy and ruddy they look, and they all attribute it to the use of Constitution Bitters. We would advise you all to take no other.

The "Continental" is conducted on the proper basis,—that of generous liberality—which is the reason of its great success. Almost everything in the way of edibles in great abundance and variety is furnished to its patrons in a clean, neat, and inviting appearance.
